Gold

Foreword

It is our sincere desire that this 1958 edition of "Black and Gold" will be a source of lasting enjoying, not only to us, the students, but also to all our parents and well-wishers. May it bring back many joyous memories in years to come.

Much time has been spent in preparing this yearbook. However, it has been time well-spent, for we have gained valuable experience in writing, editing, revising, etc. At this time I would like to thank especially the staff advisors, the assistant editor, and the business and assistant business managers, for their help in preparing this yearbook.

And so we present the "Black and Gold."

The Editor

YEARBOOK COMMITTEE

Standing: Grace Kliewer, Reginald Janz, Amanda Reimer, Mr. J. J. Peters, Henry Rempel, Leander Rempel (Bus. Manager), Dorothy Rieger, Reginald Toews, Donna Penner, Kenneth Betzold, Peter Jacobi.

Seated: Mr. N. Toews, Helen Wedel (Editor), Emmy Hildebrand (Secretary), Lucille Friesen (Assist. Editor), Mr. G. G. Reimer.

— Homework —

The day is done;
The homework lies unfinished,
A chem experiment is overdue
And I am very sleepy.

But after-four sessions
Have lost all appeal to me;
So shaking off my sleep
I begin anew.

As the midnight oil
Burns low,
The maths and poetry is done,
The magic land of sleep
Beckons, —
Where homework is no more.

— C. Wiebe, XII

CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

Aristotle once asserted, "All men possess by nature a craving for knowledge." Someone else has said, "The pursuit of knowledge, like the pursuit of righteousness, is part of man's duty to himself." Whether you as students desire knowledge because you have a craving for it, or because you consider it a duty to yourselves, you will no doubt agree with Solomon who says, "He that refuseth instruction despiseth his own soul." (Proverbs 15:32). No doubt you have discovered, though, that earnest application must go along with the craving before you can gain knowledge.

There is an alarming controversy raging at present over the question whether students are attaining the standards which were formerly attained. Here and there pressure is applied to water down courses, to make examinations easier, and so forth. There seem to be so many distractions that tend to sidetrack the students from the goals set for them. One can hardly pick up a periodical or newspaper that does not make reference to this problem. The eyes of the whole nation are focused on the boys and girls in our schools today and the effectiveness of our educational programme will largely be evaluated in the light of the achievements of the pupils. It is up to you to vindicate yourselves and prove to one and all that you possess the substance which will help you to grow to be men and women of whom we can be justly proud.

To the members of the school board it is a joy and an encouragement to see students swarming to our schools to pursue their studies eagerly. It makes the task of providing the facilities for you much lighter for us. I wish to congratulate you for your effort in preparing another year book. May it bring back to you pleasant memories of your school experiences in the years to come.

Chairman of School Board

S. B. Rieger

INSPECTOR'S MESSAGE

This is a memorable year in which to graduate from high school. Momentous developments in science, politics, economics and education have occurred or are on the threshold of occurrence. Perhaps for the graduates of today, the developments in education and science are of the greatest importance.

Every young person who is this year completing his secondary training should keep a careful watch on developments in the field of education. Unbelievable opportunities for young people to receive advanced education may be appearing very soon. Today's graduates should keep alert to the evolution in educational thinking and be prepared to make the best of these new opportunities, if and when they arrive.

Science has brought the Space Age upon us almost as spectacularly as it did the Atomic Age a few years ago. The present generation has as a result been plummeted into an age of fear and indecision. The maturing person of today must be on his guard against real dangers which always accompany rapid evolution in any one field of human endeavor.

To guard against these dangers, the graduate must not let ignorance of the potentialities of the new advances panic him into taking steps which would be detrimental to his sense of values in life. He must not allow his thoughts and actions to be directed into the soul searing state of conformity. He must learn to keep and cherish his individuality. He must not desert his better judgment simply to conform with those practices which have been given the stamp of approval by those who stand to profit most from the acceptance of them.

The most difficult task the graduate will have to face outside the classroom will be the maintenance of his equilibrium in thought and action. He must resolve himself to resist modern pressures, and avoid being swallowed up in the avalanches of thought and action, which are, during these unsettled times, rushing from one extreme to the other. He must be suspicious of those thoughts which promise a Utopia, and equally of those which predict the inevitable ruin of civilization. He must keep his equilibrium of thought and action lest he lose his power to discriminate between true and false or good and bad when choosing the course he will follow in life.

To the graduates I extend congratulations on a job well done. I wish for each one a full measure of those things for which everyone strives, namely, success and happiness.

H. A. Mouritsen,
Inspector of Schools

"There is a tide in the affairs of man
 Which taken at the flood leads on to fortune;
 Omitted, all the voyage of their lives
 Is bound in shallows and in miseries;
 On such a full sea are we now afloat,
 And we must take the current while it serves
 Or lose our ventures."

Brutus' words are as true today as they were at the time they were written. You, our graduates and high school students have been afloat on a full sea. There has, during this year again, been an abundance of opportunities to improve your mental and spiritual faculties. Your barque, if we may continue the metaphor a little longer, has been afloat in a sheltered bay. Parents, teachers, and friends have protected you from storms and contrary seas. Now you are about to strike out on your own. May your craft be equipped with a reliable compass, and may you have the skill to set your sails in such a manner that any winds that blow, will bring you nearer the haven that is our ultimate goal.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

To those then, who will not be with us next fall, to our graduates, I wish a good voyage. May you successfully manipulate those final hurdles—the June examinations. But besides a certificate proving the completion of a certain grade, I fondly hope that you take with you the makings of men and women of character endowed with pleasing personalities. May you be sincere and reliable and may perseverance and steadfastness of purpose mark your careers. Never be lacking in ambition to strive for high ideals and do not smother initiative in yourself and others. See the good in your fellow men and spice all you do with a never-failing, all-pervading sense of humour. Foster an unshakeable faith in God, who holds our destinies in His hands. The S.C.I. will then be proud of you, and your community and your country will be glad to acknowledge you as their citizens.

I trust that this yearbook will in future years be a source of pleasure to you and a welcome reminder of happy days spent in your alma mater.

THE PRESIDENT SPEAKS

ARNOLD REIMER

The end of another school year is fast approaching. As we glance back momentarily on the extra-curricular activities of this year we see that we have been highly successful. Our sports committee has been especially active. Our school hockey team won the Molloy Shield. Our school was represented in the provincial oratorical contest by Leander Rempel, who pleased us very much by winning second prize in the final contest. The success of the Curtis Magazine Campaign, of the literary, of the socials, of the Christmas Cantata, and of the spring play all have contributed to our feeling of satisfaction. Whatever mistakes have been made have been rectified and forgiven. We can indeed say, "All's well that ends well."

A fine school spirit was noticeable this year. Without your splendid co-operation and willingness to work, our ventures would not have been successful. I hope I have in my term of office, done my part to uphold the high moral and scholastic standards that have been so prevalent among you in the past. It is only by reaching and raising these high standards that we will make a name for ourselves, for the S.C.I., and for our communities in later life. Let's strive together to these ends, so that the words, "I attended the S.C.I." will become the key to our success in the future.

I would like to thank you, the students, for electing me to the presidency. I'm sure the experience will be invaluable to me later. My sincere thanks go to the council and to the committees for the work they have done and the school spirit they have shown. I would also like to thank Mr. Peters and the other teachers for guiding us in achieving our goals.

Looking into the future, we see, first of all, our friends, the graduating class, leaving us. Our heartiest congratulations and best wishes to you, graduates! We see also, the termination of the school year, highlighted by the field day and the final examinations. Beyond that, each one goes his own way. Each carries his own torch. Fellow students, whether we are returning to the S.C.I. or not, let's carry our torches high! Carry them high for service to our fellowmen and to our Creator!

The Graduates' Farewell

How sad mid the sunshine that gladdens the scenes,
Comes the thought that today we must part.
That the bond which affection has ever kept green
Must be severed today in the heart.
That we meet in this home of our childhood no more,
As we lovingly met to the last,
That we never again on this time-bounded shore
May unite in the songs of the past.
Then farewell to our school and farewell to our friends
Who have lighted our pathway with love.
Though today we must part, yet our prayers will ascend
That our school be united above.

VALEDICTORY

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Ever since the beginning of time, man has been graduating from one thing or another. I imagine it has been a custom for centuries for man to give some type of valedictory address. It is, therefore, hardly possible for me to say something that could be classified as original.

Before I proceed any farther, I would like to say that I count it an honour to represent this fine class of young men and women. Words cannot express that which I feel in my heart.

As I said before, what I shall say tonight, may not be original. However, I shall attempt to convey to you in some measure, what a young man or woman thinks about in connection with graduation. Were our thoughts to be classified with time as the main objective, they would naturally fall into the past, present and the future.

As we think of the past, many are the happy memories that flood our minds. Our faces may cloud temporarily as we think of that first spanking; they will brighten, however, as we think of that first and last 100 in Maths., or the first home run. We may feel sorry for the many lost opportunities that have slipped down the stream of time. We can't feel sorry for long though, because we cannot forget the day we discovered that one class member's head was cracked and the rest of us were continually stumbling over the marbles that rolled out. Nor can we forget the day when in the middle of a deathly calm up spoke a blond young miss sitting in the front row, "Oh I'm hungry for crab apples." These and many other good classroom jokes have been our lot.

As we think of the present, we realize that we have attained that which we have been looking forward to for a number of years. In view of that which we have to learn, we realize that we have but made a good beginning. We have reached the launching spot. Long have been the hours that have brought us thus far. We, however, are not the only ones who have spent long hours. We have not by any means forgotten the long hours you, our teachers, have spent trying to get a little bit of sense into our seemingly empty heads. Nor have we forgotten the long hours spent by our parents to make this event possible. Were these diplomas given to people for effort, they would in all likelihood go to you, our Guides and Guardians. However, tonight we say to you, a grateful "Thank you."

LEANDER REMPEL

Leander is a friendly fellow, well-liked by everyone. He adds life to the class by constantly teasing his neighbours. By winning second prize in the Manitoba Oratorical Contest, "Lea" brought honours to our school. With the help of Irvin, he would make a good chemist. "Baby's cheek or baby's chin, where will the dimple be?" Leander claims that he has bowed legs because his mother dries his jeans over a rainbarrel. He has been class rep during both terms. The position of I.S.C.F. President has been capably filled by him. He is a graduate from Bible School and goes to school for a purpose. Leander intends to go into some kind of Christian service.

The future, ah yes, we cannot forget the future. It is with a quick step and clear eye that we face tomorrow. 'Tis true our knees may tremble (as they did the day we first ventured to school) as we think of who our next teacher may be. We may even tremble as we think of what our next step may be. But we realize that our foundation is sure. We are confident that you have seen to it that our lessons were well learned. It is for this reason that we step ahead, confident that we shall win in the end; above all, keep-

JOHNNY AMBROSICHUK

John has been with us since Grade IX. He is seen entering the S.C.I. bright and early every morning at 8:20. He claims his favourite subject is Novel and Comp., but even that he always does the last minute. However, he works hard at his school work to make this year a success. The cold weather does not stop him from walking to Sarto on week-ends. John is very interested in sports—especially hockey—and 'is goalie for the Sarto boys' team. As to the future, John is undecided; his ambitions frequently change.

MARGARET BALDWIN

She is the sweet, short, and talkative type who always has that special smile for everybody. Marg. frequently has gab sessions across the aisle, with Gilbert. She enjoys her week-ends on the farm at Otterburne, and is always looking forward to Fridays. Her hobbies are embroidering, watching television, and participating in any outdoor sports. She also likes Mathematics, T.V. star "Zoro," green Dodges, and oranges. Her ambition is to enter Teachers' College.

JOHNNY BARKMAN

Johnny is tall and "hefty," and often plays hockey and football. This probably explains his presence in the Sports Committee for the past two terms. Despite these activities John somehow manages to get his homework done regularly. He receives great enjoyment out of Physics and Novel and Comp. periods. He takes great pleasure in walking home every after four (or after five). This young man rates high among the better-liked members of our class, and all of us are sure that he should win a prize for having the shortest brushcut in town. It's "real cool."

RUTH HIEBERT

She is one of those lucky students who enjoy school, even though she finds Grade XII difficult. She likes doing stiff Mathematics problems but considers Chemistry a chore. Her interests hover around embroidering, sewing, and reading. She enjoys babysitting and skating. "Ruthie" served on the Literary Committee during the second term. She detests being molested by Johnny. Her plans for next year are to attend Teachers' College.

RICHARD BARKMAN

This well-liked gentleman occupies one of the seats near the front of the room. He does his duty in keeping the classroom cheerful and pleasant. Since Johnny sits behind him, the two have frequent "Barkman" sessions. Richard is active in extra-curricular affairs. He served as President of the Student Council during the first term. Curling seems to be his specialty; he curled in the High School Bonspiel in Winnipeg. His dramatic abilities are very evident, as revealed by his part in the spring play. The field of aviation has a special appeal to Richard.

BETTIE HILDEBRAND

Bettie is a blue-eyed blonde with naturally curly hair. Skating, week-ends, day-dreaming and cleaning up are her hobbies. She busies herself after school hours with light housekeeping. Gilbert is a great help in snapping her out of her reveries. We have come to the conclusion that she believes in mental telepathy, for why would she always stare into space and concentrate on things other than school work? Serving on the Social Committee and taking part in I.S.C.F. have been some of her school activities throughout the year. Bettie is known for getting into mix-ups with her twin, and for being extremely fussy. Next year she plans to take up an office job.

FIRMIN GIESBRECHT

This quiet, reserved young man came to us all the way from Whitemouth. He stopped school in 1952, but decided to further his education this year, and chose Steinbach Collegiate because of its reputedly high academic standard. School studies are his first concern, but in his leisure time he likes to participate in most sports, curling being his favourite. Firmin has a laugh that is often imitated but never duplicated. He is one of the few that permit the results of the June Examinations to play a part in the deciding of his future vocation.

EMILY HILDEBRAND

When Em is quiet, something is wrong. She is a happy-go-lucky gal, is easy to get along with, and is a tomboy at times. When bored she swings her legs. She serves on the I.S.C.F. executive, Sports and Yearbook Committees and is the Social Committee convener. Catch Em not knowing her memory verse for I.S.C.F.! "Chee Chee" likes talk, brush-cut boys, mathematics and whistling. Em's avocation is to grow a few inches. Her ambition is to be a missionary nurse. Next year she plans to enter nurses' training and to try her hand at educating Deanna there.

CORNIE GOERTZEN

Cornie is easy to get along with and happy most of the time, though rarely outspoken. Learning comes quite naturally to him when he pays attention or, that is, when he isn't looking across the room. Till Christmas he travelled daily the ten miles from his dad's farm to the Collegiate, but now he stays in town. His extra activities include watching most inter-school sports, singing in the choir, and working at the local bank. Although his ambition is unknown, his plans for the immediate future are to work at the bank in summer.

ELVIRA KROEKER

Elvira comes to us from that football-enthusiastic district of Landmark. When she is quiet she is either asleep or day-dreaming. Elvira enjoys watching sports, reading, and listening to the radio. She looks forward to week-ends with great anticipation. Her neighbours keep her day from being boring. Her intentions are to work in some office for a while and then to enter nurses' training.

IRVIN GOERTZEN

Irvin, who is a congenial student, is friendly most of the time, but can become quite hostile if occasion demands it. His jolly disposition helps him to make friends easily and he keeps them too. He enjoys bookkeeping, poetry and prose, but at times it seems that his main purpose is to entertain the class throughout the day. Among his many interests are skating and watching hockey games. With his eye on a career in the commercial world, he intends to work in some office next year.

MARGARET LOEPPKY

Margaret is one of those girls who never seem sad. The sparkle in her lovely brown eyes is an indication of her jolly nature. Her masculine chuckle is a good accompaniment to Lydia's high notes of laughter. (We have a whole symphony.) Babysitting, "Words Are Important," and anything in the line of sports are things that appeal to her. She is a real tomboy when it comes to being on the farm. Riding horseback is her favourite pastime. Her ambition is to be a missionary nurse some day.

BRUNO GOSSEN

Bruno enjoys a long refreshing walk to school every morning. He is a reserved, conscientious student, taking his studies quite seriously. Come what may, everything is taken in stride. Like all connoisseurs of good taste, he prefers blondes who wear their hair long. He enjoys most sports but particularly delights in cheering at hockey games. Hobbies of interest to him are reading and photography (strictly amateur). If future plans materialize, he may become an engineer.

LYDIA MARTENS

She is the happiest girl in the class, and one can always look to her for a refreshing "giggle." However, this does not prevent her from acquiring good marks. She expresses good ideas in Novel and Comp. periods and is not afraid to argue in German classes (about "Apotheke"?). Lydia has been a great asset to the Collegian Staff, since she wrote the General News all year. She will be seen at the front of a class room after a year. Some school is getting a good teacher.

RAYMOND LOEWEN

Ray is a lad "full" of energy. He has difficulty releasing his pep in school work but is active in school functions. Ray, as the sports convener, does a good job. He enjoys both football and hockey very much and has an affinity for becoming physically battered. No one gets excited any more if he hobbles in swaying on a pair of crutches, or if he sports a swollen black eye. Sometimes we wonder why the hospital seems so attractive to him. Ray finds time to do some serious thinking and thus is our I.S.C.F. class rep.

AUDREY PENNER

Audrey is a happy-go-lucky lady who enjoys being cheerful. She has many hobbies among which are skating, curling, and singing. She delights in putting the noisy Grade XII class into a panic when she stamps in after recess. She has a great affinity for black coats and black cars and is rarely seen without Dot. Her studies are diligently attended to and she will achieve her goal soon. She has a noble ambition. In the future Audrey sees herself as a missionary nurse but next year we will see her in Bible School or in nurses' training.

DONALD MANTIE

Don, who comes from the country every morning, has attended the S.C.I. for four years. He complains about assignments but usually has them done. His hobbies are building model airplanes, collecting stamps and messing up Em's hair. Don is a friendly chap and is well-liked. We frequently catch him day-dreaming on Monday mornings. We wonder why? Maybe the solution lies in the fact that he awakens rather suddenly when anyone pronounces anything similar to "normal." Don enjoys all sports. He is undecided about the future.

HELEN POETKER

This is the jovial type of girl who gets along with everyone. She enjoys reading very much, and consequently does not always find time to do her homework. Helen would rather do anything else than Mathematics. That's why she chose to take History, although this is her favourite subject. Helen enjoys waiting for the school bus because "guess who" also waits for it. Skating and tobogganing provide an enjoyment for her. Ruth and Helen are seldom seen apart. Her ambition is to become a teacher some day.

GILBERT PENNER

He joined us this year to take Grade XII after spending a few years in Bible School at Caronport, Sask. Having a cheerful and friendly disposition, he makes friends easily. During the first few weeks he gave our German instructor the impression that he was not taking the subject, but Mr. Rempel has been making up for lost time ever since. His energetic nature enables him to take an active part in extra-curricular activities besides keeping up his studies. He is active in church work, is Vice-President of the I.S.C.F., and is a good actor. He also participated in numerous sports, including football, hockey, and crokinole.

SALLY PYLYPIUK

Sally has attended the S.C.I. since Grade IX, though her home is in Trentham. She seems to enjoy travelling to school day after day and now feels quite at home in our midst. Though very friendly, she is quiet and reserved. That Sally is very conscientious is evident by the faithfulness with which her homework is completed. Her hobbies include crocheting, and reading. She enjoys outdoor sports like baseball, volleyball and skating. Her favourite subjects are Maths and recess. After attending summer school Sally plans to try her hand at permit teaching.

MAURICE PYLYPIUK

This tall, well-groomed gentleman is one of the quieter members of our class who thinks that high school students should be seen and read about but not heard. It isn't that he doesn't have anything to say; it's just that the rest of us are so noisy. The fact that he comes 12 miles to school each day in his dad's car doesn't keep him from any extra-curricular activities. He is a sports enthusiast, enjoying such athletics as football and baseball. Stamp collecting and listening to the radio are his favourite hobbies. Maurice plans to enter the teaching profession.

DORIS REIMER

Doris is a lively, blue-eyed girl who "takes life" with a smile. Her rhetorical questions produce occasional laughter. Her baby brother, Chester, her panda Peter, and her tiger are her pride and joy in life. By way of sports this year, Doris energetically played volley-ball and curled in the bonspiel. She enjoys school, especially history. Next year Doris hopes to enter the St. Boniface School of Nursing and wear a "collar of starch."

JOSEPH PLETT

He is a small blue-eyed boy from Blumenhof. In school he works hard at Chemistry and Mathematics, and at keeping his neighbors employed. Sports, stamp collecting and raising pet rabbits are hobbies which interest him greatly. Joseph has a twin brother Jacob. Although Joseph doesn't enjoy light housekeeping very much he thinks it is good for him. His ambition is to become a teacher.

BEVERLEY REIMER

Bev is the only girl in class who enjoys studying, that is, letters. Those daily letters from Briercrest have made us very suspicious. She enjoys music and reading. A part-time job keeps her occupied. Bev is a good student but frequently requires Leander's pestering to keep her from day-dreaming. She takes an active part in I.S.C.F. and plans to attend Bible School to prepare for the mission field.

HENRY REMPEL

Henry, one of the taller members of the class, came back to the S.C.I. after an absence of three years spent at Bible School. Always ready for a good joke, he is a well-liked member of the class, and does his best to keep us in good spirits. Henry prefers the subjects in which the answers can be reasoned out, but as the English subjects are not options, he has to put up with them too. His extra-curricular activities include I.S.C.F., most sports, and the yearbook. After graduating he would like to attend Bible School.

DEANNA RIEGER

Deanna is usually heard before she is seen, and is not afraid to voice her opinions, especially in history classes. She is very active in extra-curricular activities. During the first term she was Vice-President of the Student Council; in the second term she was class rep and Secretary. In the spring play she was the haughty Caroline. Her pleasures include volley-ball, swimming, reading and listening to records. She encounters some difficulties in Mathematics, which does not seem to be her favourite subject. After completing Grade XII, she plans to enter nurses' training. Pet ambition: to go to Europe.

CORNIE WIEBE

Cornie is the quiet and conscientious fellow who occupies one of the front seats of the classroom. Despite the fact that he does chores daily on his father's farm, he always has his homework finished or at least well attempted. Mathematics, Chemistry, and Physics have a special appeal to him, though he enjoys the other subjects too. He claims he is luckier than the rest of the class, because, besides taking a full course of subjects, he still receives the benefit of all the history lectures. He hopes to continue his education at the University of Manitoba.

DOROTHY RIEGER

Dorothy is the dark-haired lass in our Grade XII room. She is the I.S.C.F. secretary and was the first term student council secretary. If you ask her a question she can't understand she answers, "That is entirely beyond my 'ken.'" Dot chums with Bettie and Audrey. She claims to be a well-disciplined member of the Old Maids' Club? In her spare time she likes tickling the ivories. Dot intends to go to Bible School next year.

MARJORIE STEEL

This cheerful lass has little difficulty in being friendly. "Pals" across the aisle keep her well entertained. In her spare time, Marj. sells "pink pills for pale people." Her slim waist-line is the envy of all the girls in the class. She enjoys taking an active part in extra-curricular activities: she is literary convener, and Mrs. Livingstone in the play. She makes a beautiful angel as well. Is she going to Hollywood? No! Hers is a much nobler ambition. She hopes to be "a lady in white" in the near future.

SHIRLEY STERK

This happy-go-lucky lass is well-liked by all. She enjoys arguing with Deanna, listening to Margaret's jokes, and eating good food. As a rule she chums with Margaret. Her favourite pastime is watching all sports, and television, on which her favourite star is Charles Boyer. She excels in her favourite subject, which is boys. Her chief dislikes are Chemistry, and writing poems. Her objective is to fill her hope chest, and then to make use of it. She plans to be a teacher some time in the near future.

EDNA UNGER

A good person to know is Edna. Although she sleeps at the front of the room, she is one of our better students. She has a "knack" for writing poetry and drawing scenery. Edna's love of chasing Negroes with brooms and towels has earned her a part in the spring play. She enjoys skating and collecting unusual things. This cheerful lass will be seen walking the halls of the St. Boniface Hospital next year. After that she plans to enter Bible School in preparation for work as a missionary nurse.

HELEN WEDEL

Helen likes books, people and lorgnettes. She is yearbook and Collegian editor and is active in I.S.C.F. We are told that she would like to know of a method of shrinking tall people. Her Grade XI she passed with a mere 91.4% average. Not only did she receive the Chamber of Commerce Scholarship, but she brought honor to our school by winning a First Isbister. Class members readily refer to Helen for information. Listening to "Koop en Bua," skating, volley ball, baby-sitting, and playing the piano are favourite pastimes. Rumor has it that Helen may be continuing her education in the Faculty of Science at the U. of Manitoba next year.

Classes of '58

Act the part of men. Prepare yourselves to endure toil. Resolve to rise; you have but to resolve. Nothing can hinder your success if you determine to succeed.

Rev. Dr. W. D. Howard

GRADE ELEVEN

Erna Andres

This friendly young lady comes to school from Friedensfeld every day. Her chums are Shirl and Agnes. She is very interested in sports of all kinds, especially hockey. As to her future, she is undecided, but we are certain that she could make a good stenographer.

Johnny Barkman

Johnny comes from Chortitz but boards in town. This is his second year in Collegiate and he plans to continue. He usually manages to have assignments up to date. His favourite sports are hockey, baseball, and hunting. He is capable of asking questions and making suggestions that mean something.

Geraldine Barkman

"Gerry" possesses brown hair and blue eyes, and is one of the taller girls in the room. Little numbers in chemical formulas are very confusing to her. She enjoys all outdoor sports and exciting weekends. Future ambition: to become a nurse and travel round the world, especially to Hawaii and Cuba.

Norman Friesen

Although Norman can be very annoying (especially to the teachers) he is a likeable and friendly fellow. Being the only red-head around, he has to take a considerable amount of razzing from the class. Norman has frequent after-four German sessions. His favourite expression is, "Was ist los?" He likes baseball and the latest songs on the Top 50 show on CKY. His ultimate aim is to be a radio technician.

Elma Brandt

Because Elma is quiet and studious, she obtains high marks. In her spare time she chums with Jo from XI-2. She lives in Ekron and comes to school every day from the farm. English and Literature are her favourite subjects and she likes sports such as volley ball. An expression used often by her is, "It's just terrific!" Her ambition is to go to university.

Johnny Hildebrand

Johnny has formed the awful habit of coming in late every other Monday. This may be due to the fact that he comes from out of town. He is a member of the famous Landmark football team. Being studious, he obtains high marks during exam time. His ambition is to get a B.Sc. degree in Engineering.

Elmer Barkman

Elmer is one of the more quiet students in the Grade XI-1 (quite the opposite from some of the others!) He occupies one of the front seats. Maths and German are his favourite subjects. He says that as yet he has no ambition as far as his future life is concerned.

Frances Barkman

Fran is a pretty, sophisticated young lady, whose combination of blue eyes and friendly smile makes her well-liked. She enjoys exchanging opinions with Jo across the aisle, since they both have something in common in Grade XI-1. She likes Literature, English and Reading. Fran wants to go in for stenography.

Edwin Bobert

Edwin hails from the back of the room and is hardly ever heard. He makes a sincere attempt at everything he starts out to do. Curling, hockey and skating are his favourite sports. He took part in the spring play. Edwin is a likeable chap and has a nice personality. Tall, dark and handsome is the description of him.

Shirley Biedler

"Shelly" is an ardent sports fan and keeps tab on all hockey games, especially those in La-Broquerie. She is serving on the Sports Committee this term. Her good looks complement her friendly personality. Photography is her hobby.

Peter Heier

This tall, dark featured gentleman is most grateful when there are no History assignments. He sits in the front of the room under the teacher's watchful eye. If clowning would bring high marks, Peter would have 100% every time. His ambition is undecided.

Bernice Buss

Bernice is a friendly, fun-loving brunette. Curling and working in her dad's store take up most of her spare time. She teaches a Sunday School class and thoroughly enjoys it. Stenography appeals to her as a job after she is through school.

Eugenia Derbowka

The most obvious trait of "Jeany" is her cheerfulness. Everywhere she goes, she carries with her a warm heart and a ready smile. She is our chief entertainer and class comedian. In spite of other activities, she attends to her studies faithfully. Her spare time is spent enjoying herself. Her worthy ambition is to be a housewife.

Waldie Klassen

Quote: "I like to do as little as possible." Unquote. Waldie is one of the smaller members of the class and likes to be heard, not seen. He tries hard and succeeds fairly well. His side interests include skating and his dad's car. He usually finds himself at most of the games in South-Eastern Manitoba.

Margaret Dueck

Margaret becomes quite popular just before recess time. This may be so since she is official bell ringer. She was on the first term Sports Committee and is on the second term Student Council. Her witty remarks and good humour make her well-liked by everyone.

Kenneth Letkeman

Ken would be a good student if he didn't have too many side interests. He is often heard in classes, which shows that he is capable of thinking seriously. He can't see why he has to write the long essays which bring down his English marks. His much-used expression is, "Doch nich!" Being a pilot is the object of his ambition but electrical or mechanical engineering may suffice.

Carol Friesen

Carol cannot understand why Chemistry is on the curriculum. She would prefer a course in hairdressing, since her ambitions lie in that field. She likes new cars, banana splits, and Mel. Her one great desire is to take a trip to Hawaii some day.

LaVern Loewen

LaVern is an avid sports fan and is a valuable asset to the school in hockey, football and baseball. He wants to study hard but somehow never gets around to do it. His father's morbid business sometimes causes him to leave school or anything else he is doing. In class he usually helps Burt in whatever Burt is up to. His seemingly casual remarks often frustrate the teachers.

Peter Jacobi

Pete is our Pfaff sales representative. Anything about sewing machines, he should know. He sleeps through German, and argues through Algebra. Because of his position in the front (how did he get there?) he has an advantageous outlook and therefore keeps the class in gales of laughter. He is a whiz with a slide rule and also at drawing Mickey Mouse.

Betty Dueck

This short blond, blue-eyed girl is a conscientious and intelligent person with decided views of her own. She occasionally "gets the giggles" during German period. Her interests include reading, sports and eating. Betty considers herself very fortunate in having a seat at the back of the room. Stenography is her ambition.

Brian Kliever

This boy is jolly and believes in keeping others in the same mood. Because of his teasy nature he has changed positions in the room several times. He is a good student and is always ready to join in class discussions. Playing hockey and arguing with people are two of his hobbies. His potentialities augur well for his future.

Mona Dulder

Mona is short and sweet. Her innocent face does not betray her humorous, teasing nature. She enjoys sports and was a crokinole champion in her room. Lately Mona practises piano every after four. Teaching Sunday School is a preparation for teaching, her future career. We feel that she will make a good teacher.

Burton Loewen

"What's your main trouble?" is a question often asked by Burton. Since his trouble is not homework he often attends after four classes. Though no outstanding athlete, Burt participates in all sports and also likes such inside entertainments as "knipsbrat" and x's and o's.

Lucille Friesen

This pert young lady is an above average student and a good organizer. She served as convener of the Social Committee that conducted a successful Hallowe'en party and in spring she was assistant yearbook editor. Lucille likes skating, muddy streets, and the blue color. She is often heard to ask, "Like how do you mean?"

Jean Froese

Jean is a petite but lively girl who came back to school after several years' absence. At recess time Jean reminds Margaret "to sound the siren," since Margaret is the official bell ringer. Jean has opinions about everything and readily voices them in class discussions, quite often in disagreeing with the teacher. Ambition: to become a "lady in white." Her hobbies include skating and reading.

Herman Rempel

Herman is the tall silent type. He enjoys all sports, especially baseball and curling. His favourite subject is Maths. The position he has in the back corner gives him the advantage of seeing what goes on behind the lobby wall and outside on the street. His ambition is to be an engineer.

Grace Kliever

Our slim, gentle Grace boasts of having the longest hair in the school. She is talented in many ways, playing the piano very well, and getting the highest marks in our class. She enjoys reading, skating and drawing. We have difficulty in deciphering her hieroglyphics since she has adopted a special code of her own. Ambition: undecided.

Alvin Steingart

Alvin is always well groomed. He usually comes out with a hearty "Jawohl" in German period. His favourite subject is History. He's usually quiet in class but wakes up once out of school. Golfing and curling are his favourite sports and he is an expert at crokinole (especially sometimes with Burt). His future is undecided.

Martha Martens

"Marty" is a well-liked girl who can't figure out why Maths had to come into existence. Her favourite hobby is watching hockey games at St. Pierre. Wonder why? Her favourite expression is "Dig that!" She takes French by correspondence. Peter J. is often seen engrossed in a conversation with Marty. Her ambition is to be a radio operator in the Air Force.

Agnes Oswald

Agnes comes from Oswald School District, and is an ardent LaBroquerie hockey fan. She collects sports pictures and watches T.V., but dislikes Chemistry and uninteresting boys. Her ambition is to be a stenographer in a big office.

Arnold Reimer

Arnold is an energetic young man with an eye to the future. He was our first term class representative and was president of the student council during the second term. His belief is that the school day should be longer and that the homework time should be shorter. He seems to enjoy History to its full. Where does he get all those brilliant remarks? His ambition is to be a woman's home companion some day! At dinner time he discusses politics with XI-2 students.

Thelma Funk

Thel talks with Peter while trying to study during a spare. She always tries to get her homework done but leaves History for the last. She enjoys skating, hockey games (for more reasons than one) and week-ends. Beware when she is in a good mood! Thelma blushes charmingly quite frequently. Her future is unknown(?).

Frank Rosenthal

Frank comes to school from Ekron every day. He is quiet but enjoys a good joke. His favourite subjects are Physics, Chemistry, and Maths. He likes sports such as hockey, baseball and rugby. His homework is done most of the time. Playing the accordion is his favourite pastime.

Josephine Kroeker

"Jo," as she is affectionately called by her friends, comes from Ekron. Her favourite subjects are History and Chemistry. She finds the other Grade XI room very attractive. This tall, slim girl's interests range from watching T.V. and eating, to listening to "rock and roll." She has frequent gab sessions with Fran. Her flighty ambition is to be a stewardess.

Larry Tarasenco

This tall black-haired young man is mechanically inclined. A favourite subject with him is Physics. He is active in sports and curled for the S.C.I. in the Winnipeg High School Bonspiel.

Eddie Thiessen

Eddie came back to us after an absence of four years. During this time out of school he tried a number of jobs, such as mechanic, butcher and wrestling. His laugh is contagious and he is generally liked. He is one of our good tenors and also is quite an asset to our football squad.

Loreena Penner

Loreena is a short blond who enjoys going to the post office. Her favourite pastime is watching time fly by. Green is her favourite colour which matches her eyes. She is often seen in an absorbed conversation with Lucille (whatever could it be about?). Her favourite subject is (?) and pet expression is (?) (sorry, there are none!).

Mervyn Unger

Merv sits in the middle of a "carpoodle" of girls. In his spare time he curls (won 2nd prize in the bonspiel) and is sports correspondent for the Free Press. He would like to be a politician. First, however, he wants to go to University. We wonder why.

Margaret Reimer

This good-natured girl from Lorette loves telling jokes during study periods. She enjoys sports, eating, week-ends, and popular music. She is quite brilliant during Chemistry period and is also a whiz at writing essays. Her giggling sessions with Fran and Jo provide the class with ample sound effects. Ambition: nurse.

Agnes Suderman

Agnes does light housekeeping with Jeany. She enjoys hockey games, western music and crocheting. Her ambition is stenography. Bookkeeping is this girl's favourite subject. Why are those week-ends at Lorette always too short?

Raymond Wiebe

Ray is a tall, athletic, well-liked chap who is in school for a purpose. He claims that his absence on Monday mornings has a purpose too! He has convinced Arnold that laughter is the best medicine—at least in German period. His extra-curricular activities include hockey, other sports and a blonde! Ray was sports representative for both terms. He intends to go to Bible school after Grade XII.

Lois Wiens

What Lois looks forward to most is recess. She manages to sit through classes and voices her opinion when she has one. Her leisure time is spent in making and hearing music, reading and scribbling. She writes social news for the Collegian. Dress designing and radio announcing appeal to her as future careers.

Reg Toews

"Shorty's" six and a half feet make him rather outstanding. He is a likeable guy and takes part in many sports and activities. During the second term he was our class representative. He just loves to argue with the teachers and believes in getting assignments done. The I.S.C.F. sent him to the Urbana Conference during the Christmas holidays.

Betty Reimer

This lively girl usually manages to get to school just before nine o'clock. What do Betty and Irene find so interesting in their frequent gab sessions? Betty enjoys listening to the "top fifty." She is considering stenography as a future career.

Peter Vogt

Peter is one of the class's top comedians and was Vice-President during the second term. He curls, skates, takes piano lessons, writes for the Collegian and—oh yes! he also goes to school. Pete's ambition is to be manager of the S.C.I.'s Trouble Makers. His famed expression is, "Not really!" Without Pete our famous Grade XI—1 room would certainly seem boring and empty. His second ambition is to be a doctor.

Helga Warkentin

Her sweet disposition makes Helga well-liked by her classmates. Many a happy laugh comes from her corner of the room. She expresses her inclination toward art, in her hobby—shellcraft. We wonder from where she gets her large collection of brooches. Every day she sports a new one. Her sense of humour, kind and conscientious nature, will make her a good nurse.

Irene Wiebe

Irene is a tall, slim girl. Her interests range from the hit parade to red Buicks. She is usually seen with Betty. Her ambition is to be a stewardess or a private secretary.

GRADE

Eileen Baldwin

Eileen comes from Otterburne and enjoys coming to school. She is usually seen with Bessie at recess. Her hobbies are skating, playing the piano and watching T.V. on week-ends. She manages to get her homework done and does not mind doing it.

Frank Braun

He came from Ontario to join our ranks. Though quiet during class time, he usually wakes up at recess. His favourite sports include hunting, skating, swimming and horseback riding. He admits that he doesn't mind girls. Frank usually has his homework done.

Agnes Braun

Agnes is a talkative girl if caught in the right mood. She claims that she is her brother's sister and not his twin. Agnes came here from Vermillion Bay last summer. Her ambition is to finish school. She enjoys reading, listening to the radio and gossiping with Mavis during study period.

Peter Engbrecht

This boy is the outdoor type. He was very energetic during the "knipsbrat" tournament. One of his favourite pastimes is disputing with the teacher and Clara. He has a knack for asking uncanny questions at the most unusual times.

Clara Enns

Clara has a contagious giggle that is hard to stop. She endures pestering from all sides. One of her expressions is "Okay, Gerda, you're getting it." Some day Clara wants to own a sports car. Her ambition is to be a stewardess or to be the first person to reach the moon.

Frank Froese

Frank is a happy-go-lucky guy who doesn't even mind trotting to the wastebasket to deposit his gum. Frank doesn't know why his German assignments should be done. He works part-time at Banman's Coffee Bar. He enjoys making the girls in his corner happy.

TEN

Roger Barkman

This "bookworm" is seen in school early each morning. On idle moments he throws paper wads at girls. His favourite pastimes are reading and begging Leander for gum. The future may find him managing his father's hatchery. Roger perks up during Algebra classes.

Bernice Borkowsky

Bernice is the live wire in the class who seems to brighten up the atmosphere. She gets her homework well attended to and loves it?? Her pastimes are asking the teacher questions, swimming, curling, skating and watching T.V. She served on the second term Council and enjoyed it. Her ambition is to become a nurse or to get married.

Delmer Dueck

Delmer seems to find no work too hard for him. His marks show that he pays careful attention to his studies. He finds Maths and Science especially enjoyable. Often he may be seen having a heated argument with Bernice.

Susie Dyck

This is the happy-go-lucky type of girl who nevertheless attempts her homework. Her friends wonder why the skating rink is so attractive. At recess she is often with Shirley. She is a sports enthusiast who enjoys hockey and baseball, as well as swimming and day-dreaming. Her ambition changes with the seasons.

Leander Friesen

Leander can't figure out why he has to take German and Spelling. Being the generous type, he cheerfully supplies his classmates with gum. Leander plays on the school football team. He has a part-time job at Banman's Coffee Bar.

Mavis Epp

Though formerly from Kansas, U.S.A., she came here with the birds last summer. She says that she dislikes people who are unable to argue their point. She enjoys hockey, organ music, meat balls, reading, playing the piano, and talking. Her ambition is to travel around the world.

Helen Feniuk

Originally she hails from Sarto. She always has a question or answer for the teacher, and takes an active part in British History classes. Some of Helen's pastimes are baking, watching T.V., singing, drawing and getting acquainted with new people.

Reginald Janz

Reg is a pleasant big boy who does his homework irregularly. His hobbies are swimming, building model airplanes, playing baseball, and poking Irma with the compasses. He can have a most innocent look on his face when caught in a prank.

Gerda Giesbrecht

"Gerdie" is a petite lady whose German scribbler frequently passes around the back of the room. Her hobbies include reading, playing with teddy bears, and pestering Clara. Why does she like Fords? Gerda is seldom seen without Irma. Her ambition is to become a secretary.

Jacob Kroeker

Jac is an energetic boy when he's awake. After winning an alarm clock in the curling bonspiel, Jac manages to arrive in school on time. Weekends you'll find him frying foot-longs at Banman's Coffee Bar. He loves sports and is active in curling and skating. His ambition is to see the world.

Irma Kroeker

"Oima" is lucky enough to drive her dad's car to school each day. She likes coupes painted red from the inside. Her motto is "Rot ist die Liebe." Irma is unfortunate in that she always forgets her German. Spare time finds her tickling the ivories.

Arthur Reimer

Art is usually seen balancing on one leg of his chair and watching the proceedings from his position in the front of the room. He manages to keep it lively throughout the day. In sports he enjoys football, baseball and hockey. If you want any political advice, go to Art! He was also one of our "knipps-brat" champs.

Richard Hildebrandt

This young man is very quiet in school, but is a live wire out of school. He is called "Diedrich" by the girls. His interests lie in aviation and art. He spends most of his time in his Art course, playing hockey, and doing his homework.

Patsy Fernsel

This pert young miss, one of the shortest in the class—is not the quietest. The occasional giggles from the back of the room usually come from her, Bernice and Susie. "Pat" has been threatened with the prospect of being moved to the front, but these threats don't seem to materialize. Her ambition is to become a stenographer.

George Kasdorf

George is quite lenient with his experiment book. He enjoys skating, football, softball and some other sports. German, Geography and Typing are his favourite subjects. After fours and evenings find George working at Piney Drive Inn. George and Frank are great chums.

Olga Harder

She is a girl who speaks little but listens much. Taking her studies seriously, Olga gets her homework assignments done. When she makes good marks they are due to hard study and concentration. She enjoys records, organ music, sports and story books.

Roman Pylypiuk

Roman lives in Trentham and travels back and forth each day. He is generally very quiet. Maths and Typing are two of his favourite subjects. He enjoys sports, especially skating, football and baseball.

Katie Kroeker

Katie is rather quiet in class but occasionally you hear her burst out laughing when she hears a funny remark. She enjoys Typing and German, but wouldn't mind if Geography were left off the curriculum. Her favourite pastime is reading.

Marlene Kroeker

This small, quiet and likeable student's home is in Ekron. Marlene is seldom seen without Elma and enjoys their gab sessions. Her pastimes are watching T.V., reading and skating. She would some day like to be a nurse.

Gerald Rempel

Jerry often confuses himself with Gerald Reimer when a German lesson is to be read. He enjoys most school subjects but especially likes Maths and Science. His love for Shakespeare is nil. His ambition is undecided but it could be almost anything.

Esther Martens

Although school subjects are most important, Esther still finds time for her hobbies, reading, singing and playing the piano. A few years from now you may find her clerking in a grocery store. She is frequently found studying at recess and also makes good use of the study periods.

Kenneth Schmidtke

Ken is one of the smaller males in our room. Frequently a heated argument is heard coming from the back of the room; and it's Kenny (of course) and Amanda. He has a great urge to go to hockey games every now and then. His pet expressions are "So rare" and "Oh my."

Wendy Regier

Wendy is a friendly miss with a smile for all. If a strange cackle is heard from the front of the room you know Wendy has caught on to a joke she heard the day before. Besides studies she helps in her father's grocery store. Ambition: nurse.

Ted Solodiuk

Ted is a second Einstein. His favourite subjects are Science and British History. He is very friendly. His marks show that he is a very clever student. The future may find Ted in a laboratory doing experiments that could lead to new discoveries.

Gerald Reimer

Gerald, commonly known as Peter, is a pleasant chap who works part time at one of the local garages. In his spare time he plays hockey and the trumpet. His chief interest sits in the other Grade X room. His favourite expression is "toots" Who knows what his ambition may be?

Viola Loewen

Viola comes to school with the taxi every morning. She has a ready smile for all but she claims that Art is a pain in her neck. Viola and Gayle may frequently be heard conversing back and forth across the room. Her hobbies are listening to music and making music.

Raymond Rosner

Raymond is the main operator in the back of the room. In sports he especially likes baseball, football and hockey. His favourite hobbies are watching T.V. and doing nothing. Raymond was our class rep. in the second term student council. His motto is to be happy and make others happy, too.

Joanne Penner

Her gift of the gab has procured a front seat for this jolly, happy-go-lucky little lady. She frequently pretends to understand what Mr. Wedel is reading in German. "When she is good she is very good, but when she is bad . . ." Her ambitions run from field to field.

Raymen Schultz

Raymen comes to school in his father's green Meteor every morning. He is a quiet fellow during school hours but lets himself be heard out of school. Raymen takes an active part in sports and was one of the players on the school's rugby team.

Amanda Reimer

This tall, brown-eyed lass occupies a seat in the back of the room among a bunch of fellows. She helps to keep the corner buzzing by her ever-moving tongue. Her pet peeve is the "little boy" sitting in front of her. Her marks range from "purty good" to "Oo-la-la."

Edna Siemens

Edna enjoys going to school and her marks prove it. Her favourite subjects are Maths and Science. Her hobbies are Reading and Music. She can frequently be heard catching on to a joke she was told in the period before. Ambition: nurse.

Elmer Thiessen

Commonly known as Fudder, Elmer has a vast reserve of expressions and cunning answers upon which he may draw at any moment. Favourite sport — rugby. Favourite subject — arguing. He has a few ambitions running but doesn't know which to choose.

Elma Toews

Elma enjoys going to school and manages to get good marks. Her hobbies are skating, strumming a bit on the guitar and watching T.V. Her ambition is to become a teacher but not to remain in Steinbach. Her slogan is "slow but sure."

John Wiens

"Wiener" is our class six-footer. His favourite subjects are Geography, Science and Maths. In school John is quiet but he has some strong principles which are unchangeable. His ambition is not known but he would like to complete Grade X.

Gayle Toews

Gayle is a dark-haired young lady. She likes sleeping through Geography periods but enjoys lively German periods. At recess Viola is her constant companion. Gayle played the part of Lena in the spring play. Her ambition is revealed to few.

Bessie Zimmerman

This dark-haired lass hails from Vassar. She is liked by all and is always seen with a friendly smile. School work comes "natural" to her, and her homework is usually done. Her hobbies are playing the piano and participating in sports.

Peter Tarasenco

Peter is one of the smaller boys in school. He is usually quiet but sometimes is heard talking with Raymen. He enjoys school and his favourite sport is skiing. His ambition is not definite but he will probably end up with construction work.

Shirley Tarasenco

Shirley is a tall girl sitting near the back of the room. She is seldom seen without Susie. Her pastimes include curling, skating and drawing. She is also an ardent T.V. watcher. Her ambition is to join the air force — as a stewardess, of course!

Cornie Warkentine

"Curley Locks" comes from Rosengard every morning. Besides attending to studies he keeps busy helping his father on the farm. Cornie's favourite pastimes are skating and baseball. His ambition is to become a veterinary.

Evelyn Toews

She has the great distinction of being the only "red-head" in the illustrious Grade X—1 room. One of life's knotty problems, as far as she is concerned, is Geometry. When the nine o'clock siren goes, our Evelyn is often taking a spin in her brother's car.

Miranda Unger

Miranda enjoys school and takes it seriously, but always has a ready smile when the occasion demands it. Her favourite subjects are Literature, Spelling and Geometry. She likes to read, listen to the radio, and watch baseball. After finishing high school she intends to go to Bible School.

Joyce Reimer

This small dark-haired lass comes from Clearsprings. She is usually quiet, but occasionally she enjoys a good gab session with Elma. Joyce likes reading a good book once in a while, but that excludes Geography. Her ambition is to become a nurse.

1 Martha Klassen

Mart believes in the idea that small children should be heard, not seen. She is a small blonde who keeps the classroom gay. This "spunky" little girl is often found at hockey games. Literature is her favourite subject.

2 Cornie Klassen

He is a quiet, studious lad who hardly ever makes any noise. His hobbies are stamp collecting and reading. History is his favourite subject.

3 Frances Kowalsky

Here is a tall, attractive brunette who enjoys whispering to all her neighbours. She likes baseball and watching hockey games. Her homework is generally done—and satisfactorily too.

4 Helmuth Klassen

Helmuth is a friendly "old chap" who likes recess. He comes to school in his dad's car every day from Ekron. He's on the second term Social Committee. Mr. Reimer calls him our beefsteak student. Ambition: engineering.

5 Dorothy Kreutzer

"Dot" enjoys sitting near the back of the room so that she can take relaxing walks to the furnace room and back. She takes a special interest in school activities, especially Council meeting. Why? She was our second term class rep.

6 Waldy Loewen

Waldy is our class "knips brat" champion. He enjoys almost any sport. Everybody finds Waldy a good friend. Playing accordion is one of his pastimes. Art periods rank "high" with him.

7 Allan Loewen

He is our class mathematician who loves outdoor sport and teasing the girls. He's usually studying when not talking to Rudy. Architecture is what he is heading for.

8 Mary Kroeker

Here is a blondie with sparkling blue eyes and the gayest of natures. She enjoys Reading, Algebra and study periods. Ambition: to sit in the back of the room.

Grade Nine I

9 Ray Mouritsen

Joking, hard-working and intelligent are adjectives which describe Ray. His favourite subjects are Maths and Science. His favourite expression is "Oh, definitely." Ray plans to continue his studies through University. His ambition is to be a specialist in the field of electronics.

10 Shirley Ladobruk

"Shirl" is a small member of our class who is not immune to frequent attacks of "giggles." She is one of our sports enthusiasts. She served on the second term Sports Committee. Ambition: to have her curly head in the clouds (stewardess).

11 Jack Reimer

Jack came to us from Clearsprings in time to start school. He quite frequently expresses his opinion during classes. A hobby he enjoys is skating. His future ambition lies in the farming direction.

12 Margaret Letkeman

The only girl in our class fortunate enough to have naturally curly hair is Marge. To be a stenographer is her ambition. She chums with Ann and Helen.

13 Grace Loewen

This is a lively girl who enjoys History, recess and gab sessions. Maybe the reason for her completed homework is that she does most of it during Literature period. If anyone cares for good chocolate cake—go to Grace. She is on the I.S.C.F. executive.

14 George Rempel

Joe is one of those "guys" who always has his homework done. He never fails to keep the left side of the Grade IX—1 room well entertained. History is "tops" with him. George plans to finish Grade XII and become a pilot. His favourite expression is "Oh my!"

15 June Oswald

This pretty young lass has brown eyes. She was one of the angels in the Christmas Pageant. "Often seen but seldom heard" is her motto. She is an ardent LaBroquerie hockey fan.

16 Herbert Rempel

"Where there's a will there's a way," describes Herbert. He hails from Ekron. Skating and reading take up much of his time. He plans to follow in his father's footsteps — to be a farmer.

17 Carol Penner

Carol is one of our up-and-coming cooks. She plans to get good grades so that she can become a stenographer and later a missionary. Reading is a pastime.

18 Jim Sawatzky

Jim has a friendly smile for everyone. He catches up on his sleep during German and Music Appreciation. He enjoys all sports. Ambition: to be a member of the R.C.M.P.

19 James Steel

There is seldom a hockey game James does not attend. He is a member of the S.C.I. hockey team. This young man served on the first term Sports Committee. He is a friendly chap, who has high ambitions—to be a jet pilot.

20 Donna Penner

The best all-round girl in the class is Donna. Her hobby is talking with Rose while her ambition is to have a musical career. She takes her afternoon naps during German periods. The dictionary is frequently used to compete with the teacher's knowledge.

21 Bill Toews

Bill is one of the few quiet and studious boys of this class. However, he is heard at recess when he is not planning mischief. His out-of-school hours are spent working at model airplanes and reading. He enjoys Maths and Science.

22 Frieda Poetker

"Fritz" is seldom seen without Martha. She was one of the blonde angels in the Christmas Pageant. She hopes to become a second Florence Nightengale. Science and skating are her favourite pastimes. Baby-sitting is on the list too.

23 David Toews

Although David is quite small, he can curl well. His dry sense of humour often amuses the class. Some of his time is spent watching T.V. and helping his dad in the store.

1 Ken Betzold

Good-looking Ken is very popular, especially with the Grade XII's. He came back to school to further his education and is taking an active part in school activities.

2 Lawrence Senkiw

By the end of Grade IX Lawrence will have added 3,600 miles to his travels to and from school. As he wishes to be a jet pilot, he will be adding more miles to his wanderings. Law-

3 Irene Barkman

This friendly little lass arrives at school about two seconds before nine with eyes aglow and her face dimpled with a smile. Stamp collecting and skating are two of Irene's hobbies.

4 Eleanor Bergman

Eleanor is not as quiet as she may at first appear. Her alertness may be the reason for her high marks. In the near future you may meet her taking your temperature and pulse.

5 Neddy Smuk

Neddy travels to and from school via his trustworthy '38 Chev. His ambition is to make Grade IX and only he knows why. He hardly ever teases girls.

6 Norman Feniuk

There's never a cloudy day for tiny Norman. When in doubt he asks. Some day you may find him in the white coat of a lab technician.

7 Irene Doerksen

A lover of skating, baseball and baby-sitting, Irene is usually seen participating in one of these. She has a cheerful disposition, a jolly stride and asks queer questions. Irene will soon get serious with her studies.

8 Calvin Brandt

One of the sportsmen in our room is Calvin Brandt. He also finds some of his sports in teasing the girls. Calvin has his eye focused on the field of engineering.

9 Ann Doerksen

Ann comes to us from La Riviere, the "ski" country, and this could be the reason why she wants to "ski" right through Grade XII. Her ready smile and steady effort will be in her favour.

Grade Nine II

10 Rosella Loewen

Intriguing looks find Rosella's interest immediately. However, this does not include our text books. She enjoys spelling and loves mild laughter. Her present interest is to make the grade with good marks.

11 Allan Friesen

Our sports rep for the second term is Al Friesen. He is salesman for the Tribune paper too. He is liked by all and now has one resolve: to pass Grade IX with honors.

12 Doris Doerksen

Her quick smile is always driving gloom away. Doris likes to read, school books not being excluded. She enjoys school and exams. Perhaps that is why she wants to finish high school.

13 Phyllis Doerksen

Phyl's giggles are contagious even to the teacher. The first term she served on the Literary Committee, and is now taking part in the spring play. In spite of all these duties she works and still keeps up her school studies.

14 Beth Dugard

This gracious young lady was our first term class rep. She has "drive" in her school work and her present ambition is to become a school marm. Her hobbies include skating and reading.

15 Peter Dueck

This historian is our second term class rep. What would we have done without Peter in the Christmas play? He is an optimist.

16 Jeff Guenther

One of the smaller men in our class is Jeff. His quietness and appearance of attentiveness do not fool the teacher. Jeff's favourite subject is Literature. To become an archaeologist is his worthy ambition.

17 Joannie Feniuk

This neat and tiny lady loves the great outdoors. If she can't do her Algebra problems right she will do them wrong, but she will do them.

18 Judy Friesen

This quiet young lady loves playing the piano and likes to skate. She makes friends easily in spite of her quiet nature.

19 Katie Friesen

Katie's laugh is so contagious that when she will be a nurse her giggle will drive all the ills away, and her patients will go home and live happily ever after.

20 Martha Friesen

A number of miles from town in the south-west direction lives a future teacher. Martha loves books, school books included. Her schooling days are not over, but well begun.

21 Harry Harder

Even though Harry loves to skate he does like a snatch of homework now and then. He likes to solve  $x+y$  problems. Harry may go places yet.

22 Dennis Fender

"Wenn alle Tage Sonntag wär und mitten in der Woch' ein grosses Fest." This would suit Dennis. His main interest is professional hockey. He has already shifted into high gear in his studies.

23 Eileen Giesbrecht

Quiet on the outside but laughing on the inside is Eileen. She enjoys skating, reading, homework, Grace and Beth. Her ambition now is to be ambitious.

24 Viola Giesbrecht

Vi is an all-around efficient girl. She likes school with an occasional day-dreaming session. She enjoys skating and baby-sitting and loves playing the piano. Some day Vi hopes to be wearing the starched cap of a nurse.

25 Darlene Goertzen

Quiet Darlene finds that Maths is right down her alley. When it comes to the future, Darlene wishes to retire young and rich.

26 Peter Hamm

The Charles Atlas of our room is none other than Peter. Maths is his favourite subject. He enjoys studying. His heart is set on being a business man.

27 Elizabeth Harder

Being our class Rosa Bonheur, Elizabeth has a flare for drawing animals. Near the top on her favourite ladder are History, Art and a "powerful laugh" now and then.

28 Elizabeth Harms

Our Grade IX is a little League of Nations and our German delegate is "Liz." At times Liz may be found very studious but at other times...? Her ambition is to grow no taller and to finish high school.

29 Alvin Fender

Friedensfeld has its representative in our school in Alvin Fender. Alvin usually has a smile on his face, especially during Algebra, which is his favourite subject. His ambition is to become a professional hockey player.

24 Evelyn Rosenfeld

Evelyn is one of those lucky ones who gets a ride to school every day. She comes from Friedensfeld. Her hobbies are doing homework, skating and watching hockey games. She claims that she takes her work "seriously." "Evie" is seldom seen without June.

25 Doreen Saskosky

This describes her: "Five-foot-two, eyes of blue." Doreen believes in the fact, "little children should be seen rather than heard." She enjoys playing piano. You'll see her with Fran quite often.

26 Donald Unger

This lad is one of our brush-cut fans. Hockey and curling are his hobbies. He is very quiet and studious. His ambition is to study engineering.

27 Rose Thiessen

Rose is the "baby" of our class but you'd never know it. She has no trouble loving her immediate classroom neighbours. She sleeps through German periods and laughs through health. Her ambition is to become a nurse.

30 Linda Hiebert

Though Linda may seem shy at first, this impression soon vanishes. Her favourite subject is History. Linda is a natural with the camera. Her main out-of-school interests are skating and reading.
rence is a good, solid fellow.

31 Orlando Hiebert

Orlando, our tall man, usually has his mind in matters other than school work. He loves History, which seems to please the teacher. His ambition is to be a rancher in Arizona.

32 Carol Hill

Some day you may be served chicken dinner in the clouds by prim little Carol. Her ambition is to travel through the air in her role of stewardess. High marks come to Carol because she is not afraid to work.

33 Norah Hill

This ardent student comes to us from the ski hills of Marchand. Norah likes Art and Algebra, but this does not keep her from giving in return what the boys in her vicinity treat her to.

34 Betty Hudson

No wonder Betty looks forward to art periods. She intends to practise her artful abilities on ladies' hair styles. Quiet Betty thinks a good education is a necessity for girls nowadays.

35 Claus Hulseman

Claus, or Henry as he is called at school, moved here from Saskatchewan. He seems to be enjoying Steinbach. Playing hockey and rugby is what he really likes. When in the mood, he can make high marks.

Grade Nine I

28 Katherine Unger

Quiet and studious is this lovable girl, with a mischievous sparkle in her eye. Kathy has an "Oh Shund" for the tricky Maths problem which she usually struggles through successfully. Her chums are Mary and Doris.

29 Rudy Warkentin

This clever, handsome chap who knows all the answers, sits near the middle of the room directly in the teacher's path. He always has his homework done but when does he do it? Science and History are his best subjects. Ambition: engineering.

30 Shirley Warkentin

She is a brunette with brown eyes. Shirley surprises us with her good marks in Maths and Art. Her friendly disposition is pleasing to all. She enjoys baseball and skating.

31 Henry Wedel

"Ichabod" is the tallest, most lanky fellow in our class. He is our sports car enthusiast. Henry enjoys all sports and Algebra. Electronics is right up his alley. His future ambition is unknown.

32 Betty Wiebe

"Betsy" is a small dark-haired lass who sits in the back of the room. She is quite often heard. Rose is a close friend of hers, but they sit far apart for some unknown reason. Algebra and watching hockey are her "favourites."

33 Helen Wiebe

Helen, who is generally in high spirits, is the tallest girl in Grade IX. She is the only member of the class who is an Elvis Presley fan. Her future ambition is to become a nurse—a very pretty one.

34 Werner Friesen

He came to us from Winkler in time for the first term exams. His favourite sport is basketball. Reading and listening to the radio are his pastimes. He "hits the top" with Science and Maths. At present he resides in Friedensfeld.

Moods

One day
My soul soars high above the clouds,
And flies to ecstasy unknown;
My heart is light among the crowds,
And sings of joyfulness I own;
Each person adds a ray of love
That seems to shine down from above;
My happiness is so complete
That humbly I bow at His feet.

Today
Life is worth living; is it not?

One day
My soul sinks low into despair
And sorrow lights my lonesome way;
My heart is filled with grief and care
As on I trudge from day to day;

Each song I sing brings heaviness,
Each word I say leaves emptiness,
Till I beneath life's burdens lie;
This broken bird no more can fly.

This day
Is life worth living? Can I say?

Each day
Should be a day that's filled with joys,
Where love and happiness prevail,
Where grief and sorrows are our toys,
And sin can not prevail;
A day, when by our work and deed
Some other to the light we lead.
May we tread on the narrow road
Where God can ease our heavy load.

Attempt at Poetry

Long, long had I thought of iambic
And anapestic too,
It seemed as if trochaic
Feet wouldn't even do.

There still remained the dactyl,
With which to make a rhyme;
And so I racked my brain until
I thought it was a crime.

What kind of poem should I write?
A ballad, sonnet, lyric?
Or should I take a dreamy flight,
In free verse be poetic?

To have good style, I thought,
I must have figures of speech,
Similes, metaphors—a lot
Of these—my messages will teach.

Apostrophe, metonymy,
Perhaps synechdoche?
And still I could not see
What even now I'd say.

Until at last in blank despair,
I almost uttered curses,
But breathing up a wordless prayer
Said, "Don't make me write verses!"

Helen Wedel, XII

The Little Helper

He tried to help his Daddy
Build a big new sleigh,
But when he missed the nail
His Dad sent him away.

He tried to help his Mother
To bake a fluffy cake,
But he dropped the eggs and spilt the cream,
And was sent to his brother Jake.

He tried to help his brother
Hitch Nellie to the cart,
But he twisted the traces and broke the braces
So he was sent to the park.

He's wandering all alone now,
Just kicking at the snow,
And wondering why grown-up folks
Misunderstand him so.

A Calm Night

As my friend and I step out of our cabin door and on to the path which winds its way down to the river, we enter a dark wonderland. How calm is the night! Not a word is spoken. Only the rippling of the water from the river before us, only the hooting of the owl in the woods behind us, and only the music of the stars above us can be heard as we stand in awe.

Looking towards the river, we see it lie before us, as a black ribbon slowly winding its way down to the ocean. The water murmurs as it flows downstream, "gliding at its own sweet will." In the distance we hear the water gently tumbling over the rocky falls. In the moonlight a silver gleam rises from the water and is gone with a splash. Just a fish taking his evening exercise! Above the rippling of the water we hear the mournful call of the loon, which is guarding his home. To complete the scene the frogs begin their habitual chanting as they sway to and fro on the lily pads.

Turning around, we are confronted by the mysteries of the dark lonesome forest. Are the woods whispering? We hear a gentle breeze ruffle the leaves as they slumber on. The undergrowth is waving to and fro like the tide which rises and again recedes. There is nothing to disturb the rhythm of the plants, peeking through the moss covered floor of the forest. From the distant hills comes the cry of a coyote, hunting his prey. Above us perched on the limb of an aged oak tree, an owl sits, peering into the depth of the forest in search of food. The sweet call of the whippoorwill re-echoes through the forest glades, bringing back to us memories of long ago as we thoughtfully stand in the still of the night.

As we turn our faces toward the heavens a balmy breeze greets us. The stars smile down upon us as they sing a peaceful lullaby. The moon goddess rides across the dark heavens, casting a magic spell over the silent earth while the stars form a pathway for her gleaming chariot. Suddenly a meteor flashes across the sky! It glows and is gone. Occasionally fluffy white clouds playfully dance across the path of the moon. In the northern skies the intermingling colours of the aurora borealis are visible. The honking of wild geese is audible as they once again prepare for their migration to the south. A wedge shaped shadow crosses the face of the moon, leaving all at rest once again.

As we turn back to our lonely log cabin, we humbly thank our Creator for the beauty and peace of such a calm night. Long after this, these memories will linger. How can we ever forget! The forest, the river, and the heavens have joined to create one harmonious scene, which leaves us entranced. Not until one has seen a truly calm night and pondered over it, can one comprehend the true meaning of peace.

United Nations Seminar Report

Delegates: Arnold Reimer, Marjorie Steel
Lectures were begun the day after arriving at the University, the main speaker being Dr. Dorothy Collings. Dr. Collings is directly connected with the United Nations, especially with the work of Unesco. For some time she was in Paris, France, and later on in Cairo, Egypt. She is now an Education Liaison Officer of the Department of Public Information of the U.N. Headquarters Staff.

Dr. Collings spoke to us on many interesting topics, among them being Middle East Problems, UNESCO and Ghana. Her talks on the Middle East were especially interesting because she had been close to the problem while working in Egypt.

Other speakers at the Seminar were Dr. M. R. Elliot, Mr. F. W. Hamilton, Dr. Paul Forstner and C. F. Greene.

Collegiate Ladies' Choir

The singing in the Collegiate was under the capable direction of Rev. Geo. E. Dugard. Practice took place regularly on Monday and Wednesday mornings. During the year three different groups sang for the various occasions: A mammoth choir of about one hundred seventy voices sang the hymns and carols in the cantata program, "The Christmas Song of the Ages."

Collegiate Male Choir

A Festival Choir of about thirty-five voices participated in the Altona Musical Festival.

A third group was the girls' choir which rendered several numbers at the Graduation Exercises. The pianist this year was Betty Reimer of Grade XI.

FIRST TERM COUNCIL

Standing: Mr. J. Wedel, Leander Rempel, Beth Dugard, Rudy Warkentin, Marjorie Steel, Delmer Dueck, Jean Froese, Arnold Reimer, Joanne Penner, Mr. J. J. Peters.

Seated: Richard Barkman (Pres.), Irvin Goertzen (Treas.), Dorothy Rieger (Sec.), Deanna Rieger (Vice-Pres.).

SECOND TERM COUNCIL

Standing: Peter Dueck, Dorothy Kreutzer, Raymond Rosner, Margaret Dueck, Reginald Toews, Bernice Borkowsky, Mr. J. J. Peters, Leander Rempel.

Seated: Arnold Reimer (Pres.), Irvin Goertzen (Treas.), Deanna Rieger (Sec.), Mr. N. Toews, Peter Vogt (Vice-Pres.).

SOCIAL COMMITTEE

Standing: Richard Hildebrand, Mr. A. Enns, Burton Loewen, Mr. H. Rempel, Gilbert Penner, Mr. F. Isaac, Helmut Klassen. Seated: Phyllis Doerksen, Loreena Penner, Emmy Hildebrand (Convener), Betty Hildebrand, Joanne Penner. Inset: Lucille Friesen, first term Convener.

SOCIAL REPORT

In order to be a well-educated person, one must develop in four ways—physical, spiritual, mental and social. It has been our privilege, as a committee, to assist in the social line. The co-operation of students and teachers alike has made the social activities of the 1957-58 season a success. Let us look back and see what has been done.

Our first party, the Hallowe'en social, was rather a "spooky" event. It included the initiation of new students and teachers. One of the new students, while walking the plank, jumped so far in order to miss the tub of water, that she actually hit the water and missed the pillow intended for her landing. The highlight of the evening was a "shadow" operation. The patient was solemnly borne in on a stretcher to the accompaniment of "Largo." Once the patient was on the operating table, the doctors went to work. The patient must have had a bad case of stomach ulcers, for everything from puppies to rope was extracted from his stomach. This performance whetted our appetites. Lunch was served by the Committee.

Dec. 19 was Christmas Social night at the S.C.I. Gifts were exchanged and everyone had his "treat" of candy bars and drinks. Suddenly an unexpected guest arrived. Santa Claus had really come. He was a great help in distributing gifts, bars and kisses. The main event of the evening was a vocal solo by Mr. Henry Toews. He accompanied himself on the piano. Singing of Christmas carols brought the evening to a close.

Another social event of the year was the carnival. This was enjoyed by all, for it broke the monotony of regular school routine. As a committee, it was our privilege to cheer the frozen faces of the students, and to ask them in an advertising manner, "Would you like a hot-dog?" Hot-dogs were our specialty this year. Bars, pop, peanuts and gum were also waiting for the hungry students. An evening skating party ended a successful day.

COLLEGIAN STAFF

Standing: Mr. N. Toews, Leander Rempel. Seated: Peter Vogt, Lydia Martens, Helen Wedel (Editor, both terms), Edna Unger, Lois Wiens.

COLLEGIAN REPORT

It is a pleasure to look in retrospect at the activities of our Collegian Staff of 1957-58. We hope that our readers have caught a true glimpse of life in the S.C.I. Our various activities and projects have been mentioned or discussed in this student column to give parents and friends a greater interest in our school.

However, the students who helped to write our columns, have also gained something of value. They have learned to write reports on different phases of high-school life. Furthermore, they have learned to co-operate with teachers and other students, in preparing this paper.

Our regular "Collegian" includes these columns: Editorial, Sports, Social News, and General News. Then there is, of course, our entertaining "Around the Lobby with Bobby." That the "anonymous" author has provided many a chuckle, is certain. It has been a gratifying experience to work on the Collegian Staff. May the students of next year carry on the publication of the "Collegian."

Twilight

Twilight on the Prairie,
Where pale blue violets hide,
Where the brook is always merry
And trees grow by its side;
Where the sun is slowly setting,
And the sky is turned to red.
Then the world at last is resting

And the day fades and is dead.
Life is like the twilight
That slowly fades away
And sinks into a dark night
That ne'er will turn to day.

I.S.C.F. EXECUTIVE

Gilbert Penner, Leander Rempel (Pres., both terms), Dorothy Rieger, Mr. H. Toews.

ISCF REPORT

1 John 1:7 tells us that if we walk in the light as He is in the light, we have fellowship with another. One of the key words of our ISCF group is "fellowship," the other is "Christian." These two words have been the theme of a group of young people who have gathered in the Collegiate auditorium every Wednesday after four. Our purpose for having these meetings is to draw together Christians in the high school to encourage each other to maintain a strong Christian testimony.

ISCF this year, as in other years, has not confined its meetings to only one meeting a week, and so we would like to give you just a little eye-opener, as we review a few events of the year. To open the year, we had an outdoor chile con carne stew. Then, a conference in Winnipeg was attended by several members of our executive. Students' day of prayer saw something out of the ordinary happen in Steinbach. ISCF'ers spoke in the Steinbach churches, informing people what ISCF is and does, and requesting prayer for the organization. During the Christmas holidays, our group with the help of a few business men financed a trip for Em Hildebrand and Reg Toews to the international IVCF World Missionary Conference at Urbana, Illinois. February 21, 22 and 23 are days that none of us will forget. Work and concentration was put into the planning of a Manitoba ISCF conference that was held here in Steinbach. The blessings received at conference high-lighted this year of ISCF activity. These events have helped us to draw closer to our Lord and Saviour.

We thank the Lord for having had a successful year.

LITERARY COMMITTEE

Standing: Gerda Giesbrecht, Peter Tarasenco, Edwin Bobert, Richard Barkman, Calvin Brandt, Grace Loewen. Seated: Grace Kliwer, Marjorie Steel (Convener, both terms), Mr. J. Wedel, Ruth Hiebert.

LITERARY REPORT

At the beginning of the school year it was suggested that the activities of the Literary Committee be discontinued. However, we were given another chance and have been quite successful in our attempts.

Our first undertaking was the presentation of the Literary. This was held on November 7, and consisted of various music numbers and a short play entitled "The Train to Mauro."

Still, most of the Committee's time was spent in the preparation and presentation of a Spring Play. Mr. Wedel was appointed director and he chose the play "Lena Rivers." This play was staged here about eight years ago, but it is becoming increasingly hard to find new plays that are suitable.

Also this year, a new method of picking characters was employed. Anyone interested could apply for a part. Then, the most eligible persons were given a chance to read for different parts. The Literary Committee along with Mr. Wedel decided who would be the best for the characters to be played.

The story of the play "Lena Rivers" centres around Lena and Grandmother Nichols. They are extremely poor and must live with Granny's son, John Livingstone. John's wife Matilda and her daughter Caroline treat their relations as though they were servants. The plot thickens as Caroline's fiancée falls in love with Lena and Mrs. Livingstone fights desperately to marry her daughter to the wealthy young man.

The spring play has become an annual event at the S.C.I. now and we believe that the whole town looks forward to it. We hope that the Student Council will agree to let the Literary Committee continue its work next year.

Lena

Rivers

The cast of "Lena Rivers": Mrs. Graham, Helen Wedel; Mr. Graham, Gilbert Penner; Caroline, Deanna Rieger; John Jr., Richard Barkman; Mrs. Livingstone, Marjorie Steel; Mr. Livingstone, Leander Rempel; Lena Rivers, Gayle Toews; Durward Belmont, Arnold Reimer; Granny, Phyllis Doerksen; Anna, Joanne Penner; Malcolm Everett, Edwin Bobert; Aunt Milly, Edna Unger; Caesar, Leander Friesen; Dorothy Kreutzer and Audrey Penner, make-up; Lucille Friesen, prompter; Brian Kliever; Mr. J. Wedel, director.

Report on Religious Periods

"Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth, while the evil days come not, nor the years draw nigh, when thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them." Ecc. 12:1

In a public high school there are restrictions in connection with religious teaching, but Bible instruction is not prohibited. We have daily morning exercises with Scripture reading and prayer. Then, too, we have a half hour devotional period at the close of the week. In this manner, we try to impress our students with the need for remembering their Creator in their youth, as a preparation for this life and the life to come.

Local pastors and ministers have been most co-operative in serving us on Friday afternoons. Occasionally a visiting speaker has come to speak to us or to show us some pictures. We would like to take this opportunity to thank all of these men for coming to us and giving us of their time and effort.

United Nations Report

At the beginning of the Seminar, the delegates were divided into groups which met after each lecture. These discussion groups provided an excellent chance to get acquainted and to bring to light many viewpoints. Later two representatives were chosen from each group to present a topic to the other groups.

Although most of the time was taken by lectures, we still enjoyed many other pleasant activities. On the first evening we saw U.N. Films. Wednesday was quite a day of socials. At noon we lunched at the T. Eaton Company, then toured the Legislative Building and met Premier Campbell. The evening was occupied by watching a ball game at the arena sponsored by the Canadian Legion. We had lunch at the Hudson's Bay Company on Thursday. That same evening we were invited to a Theatre Party. On Friday evening we got together and had a farewell wiener roast.

Altogether, this amounted to a very busy week, but it was well worth the time and effort. Here we not only learnt more about the United Nations and its work but also met many people and gained many friends.

So Very Small

So very small,
On the ground below,
Crawling along
Does the worm go.

So very small,
So hard to see,
Buzzing about
Is the honeybee.

So very small
Am I, you see
In the eyes of Him,
As He looks on me.

Football at School

This year's football season was more successful than any other so far. We played two games of touch rugby, one with Grunthal and one with M.B.C.I. in Winnipeg. Later in the season two games of tackle football were played, after school hours, with the Blumenhof School.

The season opened with the usual game against Grunthal. The game was played on a windy, sunny afternoon on our home gridiron. Our boys came through with a real "take," winning the game 38 to 1. The score indicates the limited choice of players on Grunthal's part.

The next game was played in Winnipeg with M.B.C.I. The final score in that fracas: S.C.I. 45, M.B.C.I. 0. A feminine cheering section and a lunch after the game attracted the boys' attention, but they played well, nevertheless.

The first game of football played with Blumenhof ended in a 12-6 victory for Steinbach. The boys slithered and skidded through the game on an inch of soggy fall snow. The second game was played in ideal football weather. The first half ended in a 12-0 score for Steinbach, after a hard-fought, fast, battering thirty minutes of play. Then Blumenhof smashed through for two more majors in the second half, but we tallied with one more touchdown. The last few minutes were played in literal darkness, and scoring concluded 18-12 in our favor at the final whistle.

This coming fall we hope to sponsor a still better team. We are hoping to obtain some equipment which will make better playing possible.

SPORTS COMMITTEE REPORT

The sports committee has been very active during this school term. In early fall a rugby league was formed consisting of six teams playing during the recesses. J. R. Friesen's Garage donated a trophy which was won by Ray Wiebe's team. A number of football games were played against outside teams in which the S.C.I. remained undefeated. After freeze-up a curling schedule was drawn up with nine rinks participating. Later we had a twelve-rink, two-event bonspiel. During the cold months of the winter we conducted a crokinole tournament in which Grade XII won top honours. We had a very successful carnival on Feb. 7th with spirits not at all dampened by very cold weather that day. An S.C.I. juvenile hockey team defeated all contenders for the Molloy Shield. Permission was granted to the committee to build a regulation size volleyball court. This should be welcome news to any volleyball fans. Just now we are in the process of getting black and yellow S.C.I. jackets.

We are able to look back with pride on the achievements of the past months. With a few months remaining, we hope to make this the most successful year any sports committee has ever had.

NAMES OF PLAYERS IN TOP PICTURE

Hockey Activities

In hockey the S.C.I. remained undefeated throughout the winter. Shortly after Christmas the S.C.I. defeated Goodwill High in Grunthal, 12-2. The return game, played at our carnival, resulted in an 11-1 score for the S.C.I. A team was entered in the Molloy Shield Juvenile Playdowns. Only two of the regular players were ineligible to participate because of the age limit. The first game was played against the strong St. Pierre team. The S.C.I. won 12-2. The uneven score was due chiefly to a determination which is seldom seen in a Steinbach team. This victory brought the Molloy Shield to Steinbach for the first time in its history. The S.C.I. was then challenged by Maison St. Joseph's Home. With the same determination as in the previous game the boys won 11-5 in a fast, hard fought game, keeping the lovely Molloy Shield in S.C.I. possession. A challenge by St. Pierre the following week resulted in a score of 10-0 for the S.C.I.

This gives the S.C.I. an average of eleven goals per game scored by them as compared to two goals per game scored against them. Our very capable coach this year was Johnny Barkman. LaVern Loewen was top scorer of the team. He scored twelve times in these Molloy games.

Since only a few of this year's players will be ineligible next season we hope to have a strong team next year.

CURLING REPORT

During the past curling season the students have been very active and many have participated in this sport. This year a team skipped by Richard Barkman had the privilege of curling in the Manitoba School Bonspiel. In the S.C.I. bonspiel twelve teams participated. The prizes for the bonspiel were donated by nine of the Steinbach business firms. The curling trophy was won by the team skipped by Peter Vogt.

Winners of the first event in the spring bonspiel were Herman Rempel's team and Jake Kroeker's team came first in the second event.

Crokinole Playing

After Christmas, we had a crokinole tournament. Two players represented each room. In the final game, Em Hildebrand and Ray Loewen won the tournament for the Grade XII class by defeating the Grade X's represented by Ray Rosner and Arthur Reimer.

The Best Things in Life

I sincerely believe that the best things in life are free and I would agree with the saying, "Money isn't everything." Now I know there are a great many people who have a lot of faith in money and what it can buy, and I do not disagree with them entirely; but I said the "best things" in life are free.

Take for example an old fashioned walk through the woods. You can smell the blooming flowers and the sweet-scented pine trees in the spring. If you are looking for beauty, you need go no farther than the forest on a fine autumn day. The trees are covered with gaily colored red, yellow and gold leaves. When the gentle breeze scurries by, the leaves rise and fall and tumble over one another as they rustle over the black earth. If you are a music lover, you need only stand and listen to the thrilling songs of the birds. The robin can be heard twittering gaily as she builds her nest; the meadowlark is singing happily from a fence post; the killdeer's shrill warning song is heard above.

Now, if you are the type of person who enjoys those lazy Sunday afternoons in the warm sun, there is no need to buy a sun lamp. Why don't you take a fishing trip? It will not cost you anything. All you need is a can of worms from your garden, a hook to catch the fish, a piece of strong twine from your pocket, and a sturdy branch from the near-by tree. Put these together and you have a fishing rod. Then relax against a tree and wait for the fish to bite. But did I hear you say you are getting hungry? Well, why not build a camp fire and have fresh fried fish for supper? Hm-m-m! I can taste them already, and what could be more fun and cost so little?!

Not all people like these lazy days; some prefer days filled with thrills and excitement. Well, excitement and entertainment can be free for the taking. Just get your friends together, take a quick jaunt to the country and go for a hay ride. If you have never been for a hay ride, you don't know what you have missed. The sweet smell of fresh cut hay and the gentle breeze tossing and tangling your hair makes you glad to be alive.

These are only a few of the best things in life that are free. I am not saying that you can get along without money, in fact it would be well-nigh impossible. The necessities of life require money, but do we consider these necessities as the best things in life? I don't think so. We all like pleasure, excitement and enjoyment and all these things can be gotten free if we stop to think of them.

Margaret Baldwin, XII

Visiting

I love to visit with Billy;
We have the pleasantest chats,
We talk about everything under the sun,
Including the new types of hats.

We discuss our teachers' shortcomings
Or praise them up to the skies,
Or the price of fish in the winter,
Or the girls who are the same size.

Sometimes we talk of the weather,
And the newly-fallen snow,
Of the carnival planned for the children,
Who are really too much on the go.

We talk of Elvis Presley's new song,
And all the things he's done wrong,
About the latest show we have seen
And how we keep our garden clean.

So now our dear teachers will know,
Just what "we boys" talk about,
And when Billy and I get together,
It's time for them to clear out!

The Beauty Parlour

Have you ever stopped to think what a beauty parlour is? I believe that the name "Beauty Parlour" is a disillusionment. Probably the building on the corner frequented constantly by women of all types and sizes is called a "Beauty Parlour" for the same reason that gigantic advertisements are put into the papers that advertise "FREE" in big letters, only to fool people into purchasing lavish meals to get one peppermint flavoured toothpick free. I suppose you don't know what I'm aiming at, but let me explain.

"Beauty" is something which is pleasing to look at. Now tell me, which man, after gathering up enough courage to get his wife from the so-called beauty parlour, will not hide his face behind his hands and run in horror, after getting just a glimpse of the inside of this "Beauty Parlour?" All one can see in a beauty parlor is bobby pins, black combs, pairs of scissors, and headless women. A man who one day got his wife from the shoppe for the first time, trembled in terror as he saw a huge pair of "jaws" engulf his wife's head. When he was finally revived, his wife tried to explain to him that the "jaws" had been a hair drier. He was badly shaken up, but when he saw his wife after she had been "beautified," he forgot all else and sauntered along grinning stupidly.

Then, the meaning of "Parlour"! A parlour is a room for conversation. Although people are inclined to believe that women gossip, they cannot think this about women in a beauty parlour. In the first place, as soon as a woman puts her foot inside the door, before she can even say "Hello," she is swept away to be gently lowered into an easy chair. The customer is so taken aback by this action that she cannot say anything during the first few minutes of her stay, for no other reason but sheer surprise. Fancy that! The next thing she knows, her ears are plugged with soapy water. I will admit that women do love to talk, but when they cannot hear what someone else is saying to them, they will relax and forget about conversing for a while. Personally, I believe that every beauty parlour should have large charts on the wall, showing the motions of sign language. Then probably the name "parlour" could still be justified.

After the soap has been rinsed out of one's ears, cotton is stuffed in, providing all the more reason for the use of sign language. And then, as if cotton is not enough, women who have come to be made beautiful are seated under large, roaring hair driers, where they sit for an hour or more, having to talk aloud to hear themselves think. Oh, that's it; I've got it now! There is conversation going on in a beauty parlour.

Utter despair! I set out to prove that the name "Beauty Parlour" was not justifiable, but I have persuaded myself differently. And although the shop itself is not beautiful, the women that come out usually are. I recall now, while sitting and waiting for a friend in a beauty parlour, I observed two "beauties" hidden (fortunately) by the giant driers. Each was trying to help herself think by talking aloud, and, oh my, what a conversation!

ing in mind that He who holds the future, also holds our hand.

Perhaps you who have worked so hard are wondering if you have made a worthwhile investment. Will he or she prove to be the fine young man or woman he should be? The answer to that question lies in the future. It is our sincere desire that in the years to come, as you look back upon that giggling girl or gangling boy, who has now become the backbone of this community, you will say, "That was a good investment!" WE ARE EAGER TO PROVE OURSELVES!

GRAIN BUSINESS IS YOUR BUSINESS

Every Canadian has a stake in Canada's grain industry.

It flourished and expanded under the system of private competitive enterprise and free markets.

Release from the restrictive control of the State will permit it to maintain and increase Canada's export trade in grain.

Canada needs ever-expanding markets for the products of factory and farm, and can best hold them in an atmosphere of free and competitive international trade.

Drying Clothes On The Dark Continent

In some parts of Africa, natives still partly dry clothes by stamping on freshly laundered garments with their bare feet. Needless to say, this method is hard on the clothes—not to mention the poor feet!

In Manitoba, fortunately, electricity is on hand to dry clothes in a clean, safe, economical way! All you do is put the clothes in an electric dryer . . . set it . . . and sit back and relax until they're light-and-fluffy-dry. Yes, drying clothes electrically is as easy on the lady of the house as it is on the pocketbook. It costs only pennies to dry clothes in an electric clothes dryer.
